

My Ego
By DorothySessa.com
March 30, 2008

My Ego was happy making me miserable when I became a puppet on a string.

My Ego knew how to manipulate me when I believed something should not have been then I became an angry puppet on a string!

My Ego wanted me to keep busy so I wasn't aware of what was really going on.
My Ego controlled that puppet on that string!

My Ego loved my poor me story. I was an emotionally dead puppet on that string!

My Jesus became greater and my ego became less, which was the first step to real freedom. I could then pray & go to the bible for guidance 2B who God wanted me 2B.

Because I Loved Jesus I was able to love & accept me just as I am/am not.
Now I can Love and Accept You as you are/are not.
I am no longer that angry puppet on a string!

Because I was a door mat in my marriage, the door was wide open for depression.
My Ego & My Poor Me Story won an Academy Award for the never ending perfect movie. It was all a set up and my Ego set it up!

My Ego had a mission to get me to fall for anything but when I looked up at Jesus I took a stand for Him. My emotions awakened to the real me when I learned when to speak up & when to shut up no matter what was going on because of being aware that I AM NOT MY EGO.

Thanks to Dr. Susan Janssen for facilitating my Journey with Jesus where I discovered My Ego, just in time to read about my Ego in Eckhart Tolle's book
"The New Earth."

To book a journey with Dr. Susan Janssen BSc.ND – call 403.288.4880